Mrs. Sprague's beautiful country place, two miles north of Washington, is advertised for rent at $200 per month.

It is believed that Gaston, Butler and Pierce will be the nominees for Governor at the approaching Massachusetts election.

Short crops is the cry from England to Southern Persia and Asiatic Turkey. Almost a famine prevails in the west of Ireland.

Pedestrianism is booming in Norfolk. The matches are almost entirely made up between residents of either Norfolk or Portsmouth.

"Colorado Bill" will be hanged at Fort Smith to-day, for the murder of one Cunningham, at Moscogee, Indian Territory, some time since.

Mr. Julius S. Carr and family are resting at Hickory, N. C., having been detained from a trip to Catawba Springs by sickness of their little child.

Miss Lydia Sherman, neice of the late General Thomas W. Sherman, United States army, has been missing since last Sunday night. Fears are entertained that she either has been abducted, or that she committed suicide.

Rumor has it that the Rev. Newman Hall, whom the English Divorce Courts have recently released from an unfortunate matrimonial experience of thirty-three years, will be married again at the end of the six months provided for by the statute.

Mr. John C. Ten Eyck, who represented New Jersey in the United States Senate from 1859 to 1865—the entire war period, including the two years preceding the outbreak of hostilities—died on Tuesday last at Mount Holly, Burlington county, N. J., in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

Vice-President Wheeler is said to be pressing State Senator Pomeroy for the Republican nomination for Governor of New York. Other complications, however, are reported, the most important of which is a combination between ex-Gov. Fenton and Mr. Conkling, the former agreeing to support the latter if he will back him up for the United States Senatorship.

A peculiar case of trance has caused great excitement in Hereford, England. It is that of a young girl who had been laid out for dead, and for whose interment all preparations had been made, when it was discovered that she was in a trance. For three weeks before that she had partaken of no food, and since her recovery from the trance she has had her tongue protruding, the eyeballs rigidly fixed, while the frame at times has been hysterically agitated.

The wide-spread dissatisfaction which has existed among the laboring classes of England during the past year, now takes substantial form in a general determination to emigrate to this country. These people have been going on from bad to worse for a long season. Their always scanty wages have been reduced by the pressure of the hard times to next to nothing, and there seemed to exist to them no hope for a change for the better in their condition in the near future. Therefore they have decided to emigrate.

HELP FOR BEAUFORT.

The Mayor of that Place Writes a Letter in Regard to Remittances.

Correspondence of the News.

BEAUFORT, N. C., Aug. 27.—Will you be so kind as to publish this notice for the information of all concerned:

All contributions for the relief of the destitute in Beaufort, should be addressed to L. W. Martin, as I am the chairman of the Trust Committee, and Mayor of the town. I make this announcement because if anything comes by Express or money order, there must be some one to receipt for the same before it is delivered.

I have not appealed officially to the Mayors and chief officers of the cities and towns in this State, because I thought they had been appealed to from another quarter, and moreover, that through the papers and visitors who witnessed the wreck and ruin, they had been made familiar with our condition and would take action in the matter.

As a corporation, we were too poor to send telegrams over the country; in fact, our sufferings will be greater when what little was left is exhausted than they are just at present.

L. W. MARTIN,
Mayor.

Battle in a Camp-Meeting.

Washington Post.

CORYETTE City, Texas, August 26.—The officers traced a party of horse thieves, led by one Jenkins, to a camp-meeting, and determined to arrest them during the service. The attacking party closed around Jenkins and his friends, when six-shooters were drawn on both sides, and shooting began. It seemed like a skirmish in a battle. The firing lasted three minutes. The mourners, preacher and congregation arose and fled into the bushes, accompanied by the shrieks and screams of women and the crying of children. Jenkins was shot in the arm, another man through the ankle, and a third in the hip. Several horses were shot and one killed. The posse gained the battle and carried off Jenkins.

True to East Carolina Interests.

Tarboro Southerner.

Our friend George Latham, of the Newbern Democrat, who tumbled quite actively to the Jarvisian "idee," warns Colonel Andrews if the A. & N. C. R. R. is run in favor of that other corporation (foreign), the R. & D. R. R., he will open his flood-gates of wrath on him. The Democrat and Southerner are agreed on one thing—we are for East Carolina interests forever, if we know what they are. When things smack too much of politics we receive them cum grano salis.

MR. FIELD'S REPLY.

SOME UNPLEASANT TALK ABOUT MR. TILDEN.

A Suit to be Brought Against Mr. Tilden---What Mr. Field Thinks of the Great Claimant.

New York World.

"So Mr. Tilden is in a stew about what I said to you in Newport, is he? Well, he'll be in a worse stew before he gets through."

"Then there is more in this story, Mr. Field, than the mere fact that Governor Tilden sold out his stock?" hazarded the reporter.

"Yes, sir," replied Mr. Field, "There is much more in it."

"The public are very anxious to know the story, Mr. Field."

"Well, I assure you I am quite as anxious to tell it, but I shall not do so until I can have all the facts and papers before me. At my own time I shall prepare a statement and sign my name to it—a statement which will be a full and explicit reply to Mr. Tilden's alleged defence. His story that he was dissatisfied with the management of the New York Elevated Railway Company is all bosh."

"But he says," replied the reporter, "that you, or rather that the Manhattan Railroad people, refused to make his candidate, Mr. Charles J. Canda, a director of the Manhattan Company, and that on this account he took fright?"

"I am happy to see that Mr. Tilden tells the truth in one instance. We did refuse to make Mr. Canda a director of the Manhattan Company, and I will tell you why. We wanted in that company men of brains, not mere ciphers and representatives or other people skilled in the use of ciphers!"

"Had Mr. Canda no interest in the elevated roads?"

"Yes (sardonically); he had a two-penny interest, but he was Mr. Tilden's cipher. We did not want any such men as that in the Board of Directors."

"But was it not very natural in Governor Tilden to desire some representation in the board seeing that he was a large stock-holder?"

"Perhaps it was; but bless your soul, the election of directors in the Manhattan Company occurred long before I sailed for Europe, and at that time Mr. Tilden had no fault to find with anything or anybody."

"You say you wanted only men of brains as directors in the Manhattan Company. Mr. Tilden is thought a man of brains; why wasn't he made a director?"

"Mr. Tilden is a politician, not a railroad man, and as for his brains—well, I am of the opinion that no man really has brains unless he always does right. Whispering and trickery may pay for a while, but your real man of brains is the man whose integrity is unimpeachable and upon whose word men of business can rely."

"Do you mean to say then, Mr. Field, that Mr. Tilden's explanation of the reason why he sold out his elevated stock is no' candid?"

"I say that the reasons he advances are all bosh."

"Why did he sell?"

"Ah! that I shall make clear when I am ready to publish my statement."

"Why cannot you make the statement now, Mr. Field?"

"I have not time in the first place, and in the second place I really am not ready."

"Will your statement contain any new facts?"

"What do you mean by 'new facts?'"

"I mean will it contain more than the fact that Mr. Tilden broke faith with you by selling his stock without your knowledge?"

"Yes, sir," (Mr Field spoke emphatically); "it will contain very much more."

"You spoke the other day, Mr. Field," continued the reported, "of a lawsuit which was likely to be brought against Mr. Tilden. Is there still a probability that such a suit will be brought?"

"More than a probability—it is almost certain to be brought."

"But Mr. Tilden says that he had a perfect right to sell the stock."

"Has any man" (Mr. Field rose in his indignation), "a right to break faith with another man?"

"Certainly not!"

"No, sir," continued Mr. Field; "he has no moral right under the sun to do such a thing."

"But may he not have a legal and technical right?" intimated the reporter.

"You may be quite sure," said Mr. Field with some warmth, "that no suit will be brought against Mr. Tilden unless there are good legal grounds for it. I do not propose to show Mr. Tilden my hand in advance, so I must decline to say anything about that suit just now, except that there is every chance in the world that it will be brought."

"Will the statement you promise to make concerning Mr. Tilden reflect more severely upon him than anything you have hitherto said?"

"Decidedly," replied Mr. Field.

"Do you know, Mr. Field, that Mr. Tilden intimates that you went to England for the purpose of disposing of a block of stock, and that your anger against him now simply arises from the fact that he got ahead of you?"

"That is a falsehood"—(Mr. Field spoke emphatically)—"merely an utter falsehood. I did not go to Europe for the purpose of selling elevated railroad stock. I went to meet my daughter who is living abroad. I did not sell a single share of elevated stock while I was abroad, and I did not attempt to sell a share."

"Is it true, Mr. Field, that the New York Elevated stock has now become very much scattered, and that its market value is below that of the Metropolitan Railway stock?"

"That is another falsehood."

"Mr. Tilden says that he only procured a small portion of his stock from you, and that he bought the rest elsewhere."

"That is a wretched quibble worthy of the man. To be sure, after I helped him to stock which has made for him a fortune, he did get some elsewhere, but how could he have got a penny's worth unless I had taken him into the concern? The rules made it impossible for any but stockholders to acquire stock. Mr. Tilden got all he had through my letting him have some of mine."

"Do you still think, Mr. Field, that Mr. Tilden is ashamed or afraid to meet you?"

"I am sure of it. I do not think anything about it—I know it. What nonsense it is for him to say that the reason he has not seen me since my return from Europe is because I have been in Newport. Why, sir, I returned from Europe on the 24th of June. I think it was on Wednesday. I spent the whole day at my office, No. 145 Broadway. That evening I went to Newport. The following day, or rather on Friday, I returned to New York and was at my residence on Gramercy square a week—a whole week, sir. What does Mr. Tilden mean by saying that he tried to see me? He did nothing of the sort. He did not want to see me. According to his own statement he did not go into the country until July 3d. Was there not plenty of time for him to have seen me if he had wanted to?"

"Then you still consider Governor Tilden as an untrustworthy and unreliable man in spite of his explanations?"

"I do not consider that he has made any explanations, and I certainly do regard him as an untrustworthy and unreliable man."

RESIGNATION OF PROF. PHILLIPS

His Letter to the Governor, and Resolutions of the Board of Trustees.

To His Excellency Governor Jarvis, President Board of Directors of University of North Carolina:

MY DEAR SIR—Health and the interests of the University require me to perform one of the most painful acts of my life. I hereby resign unto your hands the superintendence of the department of Mathematics, with which the Board, over which you preside, has honored me. Until lately I have been hoping that I might still be of some service here; but this hope has fled, and I now ask to be released at once from responsibilities I can no longer meet.

Praying still that the University, to which I have been attached for fifty-three years, may always be blessed by Him who put it into the hearts of our fathers to establish, I am

Yours most faithfully,
CHARLES PHILLIPS.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

On motion of Mr. Saunders the resignation was accepted and thereupon Mr. Cameron offered the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The Rev. Charles Phillips, D. D., has tendered to the Board of trustees, his resignation of the chair of mathematics in the University of North Carolina, and the same having been accepted. Therefore be it

Resolved, That by his long and useful connection with, and services in our University, in which he received its highest honors as a student, and successfully filled the offices of tutor and professor, and was associated as colleague and companion with those eminent men—Swain, Mitchell and the Elder Phillips, and on whose shoulders the trustees with so much propriety placed the mantle of his learned and venerable father, immediately after his sudden death; by his manly and earnest efforts to reorganize that institution on the broad principles of an elective University, as demanded by public necessity and by his intelligent zeal and co-operation as a citizen in and out of the institution in the support of the cause of general education and sound morals, Rev. Charles Phillips, D. D. has endeared himself to the Board of Trustees of the University, its faculty, its students and the intelligent citizens of the State, and we therefore deem it alike to him and to ourselves to express in this manner our sincere regret at the separation—the worse as it has been caused by long continued bad health, suffering and affliction and of our continued interest in his welfare and of our desire for his restoration to health.

Resolved further, That President Battle be instructed to tender to Dr. Phillips the use and occupation of the house and lot now occupied by him, free of rent, until the same shall be needed by the University.

Resolved further, That the secretary of the Board furnish Dr. Phillips with a copy of these resolutions at an early day.

CRIME IN KENTUCKY.

Seven Young Men Arrested for a Brutal Murder and Arson.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., August 26.—It will be remembered that some weeks ago a horrible murder was committed in the eastern part of Henry county, near a small town called Sandmiffle. One negro man was killed, another wounded, and the dead body of the man killed was burned, together with that of a little girl, and also an infant.

After a few days four men were arrested, and upon prelilimary trial three were bound over to the criminal court, without bail, and one released, because of want of sufficient evidence. A number of worthy citizens conceived a plan to find out the guilty persons, and, together with citizens living in the neighborhood where the crime was committed, at once began to put it into execution.

Not until last night was anything known about the intended capture save to the few who were investigating the matter. They very quietly left the town after making such provision as to insure safety against bullets, and went to Sandriffle. The country in that neighborhood is exceedingly rough and hilly, and is the same that is known as the ku-klux country, where the Simmons gang committed their depredations, for which four of them were hanged by a mob. The men arrested were Jim Anes, Warren Anes, Jack Estes, Clemp Onan, Jim Downey, Jim Estes and Jeff Onan—seven in number. None of the men resisted arrest, and all say they are not guilty. All of them are young, unmarried men, ranging from sixteen to twenty-two years of age. It is said by the arresting persons that the evidence in their possession is sufficiently strong to convict the prisoners.

A singular fact connected with this arrest is that the whole number are grandsons of one old lady named Mrs. Onan, who is now eighty-one years of age, and who is greatly incensed by the arrest of her "boys."

A Good Word for the National.

Durham Recorder.

The Press Association ought to, and no doubt will, make their acknowledgments to the hospitable hosts of the National, who, learning that the Association was to stop a short time in Raleigh, threw its doors open and entertained it most elegantly. This is in character with a house which is determined not to stop short of any efforts to be ranked as first class, and if the unremitting attention of Mr. Street, the landlord, and Mr. Duke, the clerk, and a bountiful and handsomely spread table, waited on by well trained and attentive servants, can gain such reputation, the National will reach it.

The Kiss of Death.

A Memphis dispatch to the New York Herald, says: "Mr. Jake Kohlberg, a Howard visitor, related to your correspondent an incident connected with Mrs. Minnie Wilkie's death, which occurred this afternoon at 5 o'clock, just previous to dissolution. She had several attacks of black vomit and during the intervals called upon her husband to kiss her. Regardless of the danger that attended her request her husband time and again imprinted kisses upon her lips. He was warned of the risk he ran, but he was faithful to her in death as he had been in life. She died with her arms around his neck. One hour afterward Mr. Wilkie himself was stricken with a most malignant type of fever, although he had a severe attack last year. His kiss may yet prove the kiss of death."

LEFT TO DIE ALONE.

A YOUNG MAN'S DYING CONFESSION.

Turned from his Father's Door and Allowed to Continue a Life of Crime---A Sad Story.

Philadelphia Times.

On Saturday last the Times published the following item, under date of Tunkhannock:

A young man about twenty years of age came to this place in May last and registered at the Keeler House as Harry Dalton, Philadelphia. Mr. Dalton was quite feeble, evidently suffering with consumption. Some two weeks later he was taken down and unable to leave his room. He has since been removed to a quiet private house on Slocum street, where he is now confined to his bed, unable to speak above a whisper. Nothing is known as to his relatives or friends, nor does he care to say anything in relation thereto. Why is this? is the question with Tunkhannock people.

Mr. Dalton came here on the 28th of May. He was without money, and a sufficient sum was soon raised to make him comfortable. His gentlemanly manners and his pitiful story of sickness made many friends for him who were willing to contribute to his wants. When asked concerning his relations his reply was that he had none. His father had owned and lived upon a plantation near New Orleans, so he said, but both father and mother died with yellow fever in 1873, when he was sent to Baltimore, Md. While there a guardian was appointed for him, but the guardian and he did not agree, and he had for the past two years been traveling for a drug firm in New York. He would be 21 years of age about the 1st of September next, when he would come into possession of the property now in the hands of his guardian. He only asked to live until that time. He was first taken sick at Altoona in December, 1878. From there he went to Lewisburg, where he boarded for a time, thence to Bloomsburg, Mauch Chunk and from there to this place, where he broke entirely down and consigned himself to the charities of the people.

THE TRUE STORY.

Such was the story told by the young man when pressed for facts in regard to his life. On Sunday Dr. F. D. Brewster informed Dalton that he could live but a short time and he had better prepare for the worst. On Sunday afternoon the Rev. George T. Keller called upon him and then the young man broke completely down and made a confession. His real name, he said, was Charles P. Smith, son of J. J. Smith, of New Windsor, Carroll county, Maryland, and his father and mother are both living there now. Then came a sad story. It was that of a young man, well educated and surrounded with everything calculated to make his life a happy one, driven from friends and home by his own rash acts. For two and a half years he was a fugitive from justice, wandering from place to place, under an assumed name, repented. Like the Prodigal Son, he turned his face homeward, but no one came out to meet him. Under cover of night he ventured to his father's house, but the door was shut against him. "Never come again," was what his father said to him; "never come here again, for even if your dead body should be sent home to me, I would not bury it."

As soon as the young man's true history became known, his father was apprised of his condition. In reply to the telegram the following was received:

NEW WINDSOR, Md., Aug. 25.

Rev. Geo. T. Keller, Tunkhannock, Pa.

Affairs at home will not permit my leaving. If Charles dies, telegraph me. J. J. SMITH.

To this Mr. Keller sent the following reply:

TUNKHANNOCK, Aug. 25.

J. J. Smith, New Windsor, Md.:

In God's name, relent. Take pity on the poor dying boy. See Luke xv., 11-32. REV. GEO. T. KELLER.

No answer was received. The reference to the Bible is the story of the Prodigal Son. The secret of the crimes committed by the unfortunate young man were confided only to Mr. Keller and he would have kept the story to himself had the young man lived.

THE CONFESSION.

At 10:30 last night Smith died. None of his relatives were here to see him breath his last. The following in brief is the confession made to Mr. Keller: "My true name is Charles P. Smith. I will be twenty-one years of age on Monday night. I ran away from home in March, 1877, and was married. My wife and child now live with her father, in New Windsor, Md. In April, 1878, I forged the name of J. E. McDaniel to a note and sold it to A. A. Packer, of Easton, Md. A reward was offered for my arrest. I fled to Seaford, Del., and was there arrested, but was released on some technicality, since which time I have been a fugitive from justice. I had it reported that I died of consumption at Ashbury Park. I believe God has sent this disease upon me as a just judgment. I have been guilty of other grave vices and immoralities, and since coming to your town have lived the life of an impostor to evade the hand of justice. I have greatly deceived the good people of the place and cruelly abused their generous sympathy and hospitality. I beg you to ask those I have so basely wronged to forgive and pity me, and may God himself, for Christ's sake, have mercy on me in my dying hour."

The funeral took place at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the private house where he died. It was largely attended and his remains were interred in a private lot donated for the purpose by a citizen. Considerable feeling exists here against the young man's father, who refused to pardon his son and comfort him in his dying hour.

STATE NEWS.

[Correspondence under this head is furnished by regular contributors to the News.

HARNETT.

HARRINGTON, August 26.—The weather is temperate this morning. It has been cloudy several days. Trade is active, especially at turpentine distilleries. Turpentine brings comparatively nothing, and yet many of our people have to work it to supply themselves with food.

The police of Lillington made several arrests last week for disorderly conduct, caused by too free a use of hard apple juice.

Judge Seymour held court for us three days last week. He discovered a stump in the center of one of our public roads one hundred years old. A colored man convicted of larceny was fined a penny and the cost.

The only political question agitating our minds at present, is special tax or no tax. I think both parties will come together long enough to defeat the special tax bill on the 4th of September.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Cool Spring Church in this county. We hope great good will accrue to that community.

Crops have revived so much since the recent rains that it is now generally conceded that an average crop will be produced in this vicinity.

PITT.

GREENVILLE, Aug. 26.—The weather has been rainy every day for a week. Trade is brisker.

B. W. Brown, one of the Justices of the Inferior Court, has been presented by his wife with a fine daughter.

The case of Bell, indicted for murder, has been removed to Greene and will be tried on the 11th of September.

The Greenville Express has been presented by Richard Bynum, Esq., with a watermelon weighing 47 pounds.

The cotton crop in this county will fall short of last year's crop a thousand bales. Corn is injured at least one-third. The damage to this county from the storm is at least $100,000.

Mrs. L. C. Latham has returned from Beaufort. She made her escape from the Atlantic on the morning of the storm, losing nearly all her jewelry, all her clothing, except a wrapper she had put on in the hurry of escape for life, and all her baby's clothing.

GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, August 27.—For nearly two weeks the weather has been cloudy and rainy, preventing the drying of much fruit.

The many fall goods in the hands of our large wholesale houses are adding much to the trade of the place.

A youthful couple came from Lynchburg, Va., and were married here.

Police news has been slim for a week, no special business coming before the Mayor.

There has been but little talk about politics of late.

No transfers of real estate, but the large addition to the Central Hotel is beginning to assume proportions, and will add a large number of rooms and two splendid store rooms to that building.

Greensboro Female College is now open, with fair prospect of a good school. The Graded School begins next Monday. Always a large number there. The teachers are the same as last year, headed by Professor McIver, who was once a professor in the University of North Carolina.

During a recent visit in the northern part of the county, (Flat Rock neighborhood,) it was the pleasure of the writer to spend a night at the old home and birth-place, and ramble over the old hills, but ah! forty years, what changes has that lapse of time made, upon the face of the forests, yes and the furrowed cheeks of the old men that I used to meet there when I was a boy, where are they? I looked round amongst that multitude at the camp meeting to see them but few however of them were to be seen. Time had left but few of them, and a new generation stood in their places. Then, there was no church grave yard, now a very large one, and well nigh filled up.

Then there stood the little old log house for a church, with small windows way up, and slab benches with no backs, since which a large church (of logs) was built, and now a very large frame church (new style,) is nearly ready to be occupied. The question is, is there so many more people now, or is the present generation more church going? It thought to get way back to early impressions, such as these make on ones mind.

GREENSBORO, August 27.—A collection was taken in our churches last Sabbath for the Beaufort sufferers. Presbyterian church, $16.00; Methodist, $10.00; Episcopal, $6.27; total, $32.27, which our mayor forwarded to John H. Pool. (Baptist church not open and the day was damp, congregations small.) Mr. Jesse H. Lindsay (cashier National Bank), is spending his usual vacation at his favorite resort, Saratoga. C. W. Ogburn and wife are at the springs and quite a number of our ladies are at Asheville in the cool. None of our citizens were at Beaufort except Mrs. Odell and family at the time of the flood. The reception rooms and ticket office at the depot have undergone recent repairs and paint, the platform filled in with earth to prevent stagnant water, and newly laid with plank, and a new well 16x16 digging for better water accommodations.

FORSYTHE.

WINSTON, August, 27, 1879.—The weather is quite cool and somewhat cloudy.

Trade is very brisk, our streets being crowded with wagons.

There is a great deal of sickness among small children and owing to the sudden changes in the weather nearly every person has a cold.

The police docket is full and our Mayor lifted eight in one day.

The mayor sent $62 from our town to the sufferers at Beaufort in response to the appeal of Gov. Jarvis.

ORANGE.

CHAPEL HILL, Aug. 27.—The weather is cool and damp, but raining a little.

Graham Sykes and three others broke jail in Hillsboro last week. Sykes was in for selling whisky here.

All the houses in town are being put in repair for the new-comers into our town. Several families are moving in.

Crops are much improved by the rains, but cotton will be short. Not baleing well.

The University opens to-morrow. Already the "boys" are coming rapidly and things look lively. The prospects are for a larger number than ever.

Dr. Phillips and lady have left our town for a visit to a friend near Mebanesville.

PASQUOTANK.

ELIZABETH CITY, August 26.—Heavy and rainy weather, quite warm.

The Democrats are for Tilden, and the Republicans are for Sherman, for President.

Capt. Nathan Walker was driving home from town, when his horse took fright and threw him out breaking his collar bone.

Quite a revival of religion is going on in the different churches of this section.

The colored people of the place had an excursion to South Mills last Sunday to attend a protracted meeting.

Farmers are more hopeful as the corn has improved up considerable since the storm.

The Teachers' Association that convened here last week was quite interesting. The address by Dr. Kemp P. Battle, and the education of farmers was a rich treat to our citizens and is highly spoken of by our people.

North Carolina Merchants.

Baltimore Sun, 26th.

Mr. John M. Robinson, president of the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad and of the Baltimore Steam Packet Company, (old Bay line), has tendered an excursion over these lines to 500 merchants of Charlotte, N. C., and other points in the vicinity to Baltimore. The visitors are expected to arrive here to-morrow. The design is to afford the merchants of North Carolina an opportunity of visiting Baltimore, and becoming acquainted with our merchants preparatory to the opening of the fall trade.

ROWELL IN NEW YORK.

HOW HE LOOKS AND WHAT HE SAYS.

Confident that he will Carry the Belt back to England---He is "Prepared for the Contest."

Charles Rowell, the famous English pedestrian, in company with his trainer, has arrived in New York. He thinks he will take the belt back to England. In the last contest he took the belt and $18,000 back with him.

Rowell appears to be in good condition, and is not much changed in appearance. He will again take up his quarters at the Ashland House. Rowell was born in Cambridgeshire, England, in August, 1851. He was first brought into prominence by competing against E. P. Weston in a 275 mile contest at Islington, England. Long-distance pedestrianism in 1876 little known or practiced in England, and Weston easily defeated Rowell.

Rowell did not figure in the first Astley belt contest for the world's championship in England, which O'Leary won. He, however, entered into the contest for the Astley belt for the championship of England. In that contest he was defeated by Tom Corkey and "Blower" Brown, but he came in third, covering 470 miles. He was beaten 51 miles by Corkey, who won the belt, and beaten 36 miles by Brown. It was claimed at the time that Rowell could have made a better record, but that Sir John Astley had decided to send him to this country to bring back the belt that O'Leary had won in England and did not want him to do so. Rowell was sent to this country to compete for the Astley belt last March.

It was reported that he had covered over 530 miles in six days before he arrived. He entered on the contest against O'Leary (champion), Harriman and Ennis. Rowell won the belt, but only covered 500 miles. In the last contest for the belt he refused to compete for the trophy, as he claims he was suffering from a bruised heel. It was the general opinion that he did not want to enter, but desired to rest for the contest for the trophy which is to take place in this country. Rowell made many friends on his recent visit to this country.

"I could not practice much on board the steamer," said Rowell; "we were so crowded. We had 280 passengers aboard. Simpson, my former trainer, is very busy, but I expect him out. The match will be a very warm one. The man who wins will be very sore and tired. I shall go into a careful preparation, and will probably go off into the country, where I can do my work unmolested."

EDWIN BOOTH.

The Great American Actor Enraged for an English Tour.

NEW YORK, August 24.—The announcement that Mr. Edwin Booth has made a contract with Henry Irving to act in London, has been received with much interest here. An effort to get at the details shows that no more than the general fact is yet to be obtained that Mr. Booth has accepted an offer to act with Mr. Irving, and does not is to fulfill the engagement. Mr Booth will go over in the spring, after his season ends here, and will probably play in the Lyceum Theater or in the Drury Lane. He will give the English the benefit of his entire repertory, but he expects to make a feature of his Hamlet Iago and Richelieu. Mr. Booth once before appeared in London, acting there in 1861, under the management of John Baldwin Buckstone, the comedian, now on his death bed. It it rumored that the arrangement between Mr. Booth and Mr. Irving is reciprocal, and that the latter will come to this country next year and act, possibly, under Mr. Booth's management. Mr. Booth will not take any professionals to Europe with him, but will rely upon English support.

Georgia Colonization.

New York Tribune, 27th.

The Cooperative Association for colonizing, to the aid of which Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson has contributed so liberally, have fixed, we believe, upon the State of Georgia as the most suitable field for their undertaking. A committee has been sent to inspect the ground and choose a location. Land in the northwestern counties of Georgia, from Rabum to Walker and Chatooga, are held at low rates. Their height gives them a cooler climate than that of the low, sultry bottoms along the Ogeechee or Alatamaha Rivers, to which it would be dangerous to remove colonists directly from Northern cities. Living is exceedingly cheap in these hill counties; water power is abundant; the soil good, and the landscape unrivalled in its beauty. If Georgia is chosen as the locality, the committee should examine this district carefully. They can gain some valuable hints from the success of the German colony at Walhalla, about eight miles from the Richmond and Atlantic Railway.

Destructive Fire in Richmond, Va.---Burning of "Castle Thunder."

RICHMOND, VA., August 26.—At an early hour this morning a fire broke out in R. H. Whitlock's tobacco-box manufactory, at the corner of Eighteenth and Carey streets, and before the flames could be gotten under control that extensive establishment, together with the large brick tobacco factory of Messrs. Turpin & Bro., adjoining the box factory on the east, was totally destroyed. A row of frame houses on the south side of Carey street sustained some damage, as also did the brick tobacco factory of Jackson, Turpin & Co., on Eighteenth street, west of the box factory. The building occupied by Turpin & Bro., which was destroyed, was well known as "Castle Thunder," and was used during the war as a prison-house for both Federal and Confederate prisoners. The total loss is estimated at over $100,000; insurance $51,000.

Chatham Oranges and Lemons.

Chatham Record.

Many persons will doubtless be surprised to hear that our county, among its other varied products, can also produce oranges and lemons, and yet such is the case. Mr. Thomas C. Dixon has a lemon tree and an orange tree on his farm, both of which yield as nice fruit as any raised in a more tropical clime. Mr. Robert G. Eubanks has recently brought us a specimen lemon from Mr. Dixon's tree, and it is a very large one, weighing seven and a half ounces.

Poisoned by Eating Cake.

ST. LOUIS, August 26.—Eleven persons in the boarding house of Mrs. Moore, No. 2103 Olive street, were poisoned to-day, and all of them are very sick, but none are in a dangerous condition. Nearly the same number living outside the house, but furnished with meals by Mrs. Moore, also suffered with more or less severity. The trouble was tracked to cake served as desert, purchased at a confectionery near by, but what was in it has not been ascertained.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

FRIDAY, - - AUGUST 29, 1879.

MR. SAM W. SMALL the "Old Si" of the Atlanta Constitution proposes "as immediately as possible" to publish a book embodying the choicest selections of his 'nigger talk.' He is the best delineator of the negro character in the country and his book will be a great addition to the humorous literature of the day.

A Dublin correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says that there is a large importation of cattle from the United States at Belfast, the beasts selling from $100 to $150 apiece on the quay. As soon as the order in council which compels these cattled to be butchered on the spot is rescinded, it is expected that Belfast will become an important depot for live stock from this country.

THE New York Sun says the fish commission of that State, through their agents, have turned into the Hudson river this season more than 6,500,000 young shad that they had hatched by the artificial process. This is about one-third larger number than they had hatched in any previous year, requiring the uninterrupted work of six men for about thirty-five days. The most satisfactory results have followed the efforts of previous years. Not for half a century have shad been so abundant in the Hudson as they were this spring. The markets were filled to overflowing, and fishermen along the river disposed of large numbers to farmers to be used to fertilize the fields.

DEV. DR. CHARLES PHILLIPS.

We have already mentioned that the distinguished Professor of mathematics in the University has resigned on account of ill health. He has been prostrated ever since November last. Seeing that there was no prospect of his being able to resume work at the beginning of the session, the trustees, at a meeting held two weeks ago, offered to continue the greater part of his salary, filling his place with an assistant. But his physicians advised total cessation of all feeling of responsibility as the only hope of his recovery. Those who had watched his disease most closely concurred in this opinion: Hence Dr. Phillips sent in his unconditional resignation which was reluctantly accepted.

Dr. Phillips has been one of the very foremost men of learning and science and mental activity. He has won a distinguished place among the great Educators. All true friends of education will hope for his early restoration to the field of active usefulness.

The trustees have not yet filled his chair. The mathematical duties will be made the charges of Professors Graves and Grandy, during the coming collegiate year, assisted by Mr. James S. Moring, (if he accepts) who graduated at the University in June last with hightest honors.

We learn that due notice will be given of the election to supply Dr. Phillips' place, so that all who desire to become candidates for the position may send in their credentials, and all trustees who desire to attend may be on hand.

THE DE YOUNG CASE.

The earlier reports from San Francisco put the case in rather an exaggerated light. That is, it was left to be supposed that Mr. De Young made a wanton attack on the ex-preacher without the least shadow of excuse. This view is not a fair one. Mr. De Young was legally wrong in the course he pursued, but that does not justify Mr. Kalloch. The latter had no right to attack the fair fame of Mrs. De Young, and a man is generally considered worse than a brute if he does not defend the reputation of his mother. The original author of the slanderous report had made affidavit of its falsity. Mr. Kalloch was knowing to this fact, and he was warned as to the consequences. He disregarded the statement and the advice, and he is now suffering the consequences.

As the case grows older a feeling of sympathy for Mr. De Young seems to be spreading, while Mr. Kalloch's reputation is certainly not growing more savory as he increases in age.

Much stress has been placed on Denis Kearney's counsels of moderation. His course is certainly to be commended. He acted very prudently, indeed. For it must be remembered that the old "vigilance committee" is yet in existence—probably the strongest "law and order" association known in this country; and should a mob undertake to override that city, should the sand-lots ruffians commence a course of murder, arson and plunder, they would soon find out to their cost that when the old Monumental Hose bell pealed out the alarm, the committee, comprising 'Frisco's best citizens, would not be slow to handle them as the thieves and murderers were handled a quarter of a century ago.

And the knowledge of this fact undoubtedly influenced Mr. Kearney's action.

DR. LEDOUX'S REPORT.

The Report of the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station for 1879, under the direction of Dr. A. R. Ledoux, has been on our table some days, but we have delayed remark upon it until it could receive a more careful examination than we deemed necessary for cursory publications.

We are satisfied that much good and faithful work has been done at the Experiment Station, and this volume contains valuable material for the further discussion of many important topics which it touches, rather than fully treats.

The article on the testing of seeds for adulterations of foreign species, or of seeds too old for germination, is novel and interesting. In the one point of the danger of the introduction of cusenta, (dodder or love vine, sometimes so-called,) the parasite destructive to clover, in seed purchased from abroad, the chapter may be of great importance. We recall an instance of the evil effects of this plant, all unknown to the gentleman whose clover was being destroyed. We might add, not to enter into details, for want of space, that the articles touching the Sugar Beet culture in this State, Green Manuring with the Cow Pea, and the Nutritive Value of the Pea, Directions for Vinegar Making, Utilizing Bones, Formulæ, and Directions for Composting, and an interesting description of the analysis of commercial fertilizers, with valuable tables of the results obtained in the examination of the several brands offered in this market, are all useful and instructive.

We are also glad to call attention to a very readable and valuable article on "Drinking Waters," a subject of especial interest, in view of its relations to the health of towns, and the salubrity of a large portion of Eastern North Carolina.

We agree with our neighbors of the Farmer and Mechanic in the statement, that a large portion of the introductory part of this great volume of 200 pages might have been omitted without loss, to the benefit of the treasury. Indeed there is a tendency to the diffuse throughout the work. It strikes us that few farmers will read through this volume, useful and instructive as it is. There is perhaps a trifle too much of anxiety to relate the labors of the Station. But that is pardonable, and Dr. Ledoux's preface is candid and graceful.

Were we to suggest, it seems to us that if the positive conclusions, such as those pertaining to tobacco culture, and the cowpea, were expressed in very brief, plain, pointed paragraphs, clearly but concisely, in a small book of, say one eighth the size, it would be more widely read, and accomplish far more for agriculture in North Carolina. Very much of the selected material referred to by Dr. Ledoux, we have had before, locked up in publications, unlikely to be read and pondered by the masses.

We do not care to dwell upon the question of the form and expense of publication, for a good work well done, the people can afford to pay for, and always do so cheerfully, but it should be good, and accomplished after the best manner as to form and time.

And just here is the most important criticism that we have heard upon the report of the Agricultural Department. Merchants who represent manufacturers that have paid the annual tax, complain that the samples taken for analysis have no examination and report, until too late in the season, to give the necessary information to the farmers, and they do, in fact, buy upon the faith of the preceding year, and in the case of a new fertilizer, entirely in the dark, or not at all, to the injury of the merchant and the detriment possibly of the farmer also. They say that a report presented in the summer is of little value when their season for the sale of fertilizers is chiefly in February, March and April.

Now who may be to blame we do not pretend to say. If the manufacturer is in fault because he does not renew his license early enough in the year, it should be understood that such is the case, that merchants and farmers may not continue to blame the Department of Agriculture, and especially Dr. Ledoux, as we know is now the case.

We respectfully suggest that the method of procedure in cases of suspected poisoning, on page 39, and especially addressed to coroners, might be properly enlarged upon, with advantage. In many counties the coroners work on medical jurisprudence would furnish the needful information, which should be condensed and repeated in very plain language.

We view the operations of the North Carolina Experiment Station with genuine interest, and trust that no step backward may be taken. A mistake was made by Professor Emmons in posing for the scientific world until North Carolinians lost interest in his work. If the Station is devoted to its legitimate sphere, we believe it will be cherished and liberally sustained.

The School Bill Decision.

Farmer and Mechanic.

As it now stands, all that is necessary to vitiate a law, however important, is for one of the speakers to neglect, or refuse to sign; or for one of the clerks to abstract the bill in such manner that the speakers never have it brought for signature.

Charlotte Observer.

The Raleigh NEWS declares that it is in favor of that man for Governor who is intimately associated with the people and knows the agricultural, commercial, mechanical and manufacturing interests of the State, and will contribute to the up-building of these, while at the same time he will know how to manage the railroad interests of the people. This is the substance of what it says, and now do you know who the NEWS is for? Guess.

What?

The Farmer and Mechanic copies a portion of our recent article on the Agricultural Department, but says it "cannot go so far as to say the Department is a fraud and of no benefit to the State." Except the Chapel Hill end of the Department, we challenge our contemporary to demonstrate wherein the State has been benefitted. With an outlay of fifty-five thousand dollars, it looks reasonable that some good should have accrued. What? What?—Statesville Landmark.

He Snaps His Fingers.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Secretary Sherman told an interviewer in Pittsburgh last Wednesday that Casanave has never applied for an office nor has he been offered one. He says if Casanave blusters and threatens he will get nothing, and if he behaves himself he ought to have the money and Republicans ought to help him. John says "any Republican who hesitates to do so is a damned fool. Instead of hesitating he should put his hand in his pocket, just as I am willing to do, and help the man out of his trouble. It does not do any good to be afraid of meeting a thing of this kind. Instead of being afraid of it I court it, and would rather have people know it than not." Of course everybody knows that Mr. Sherman takes a great pride in that foul transaction of his in 1877. He has his reward, and snaps his fingers at public opinion.

Sound Doctrine, But Distasteful to Wire-Pullers.

Farmer and Mechanic.

We understand there is some uneasiness lest the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad be forced to the wall in consequence of the calamitous loss at Beaufort, joined to other pressure. Really we are beginning to think it would be a blessing to the State if every road in which she has a dollar's worth of interest were put up and sold to the highest bidder. True the State would lose all the millions she has sunk therein; but as every dollar is already sunk beyond any hope of a penny's return, and as "good money" (to the amount of one or two hundreds of thousands a year) is being daily "thrown after the bad," and as the management of the so-called "State roads" tends to evils in politics (such as the Governor's appointing members of the legislature as directors on the roads) and necessitates the employment of legal counsel at large fees, and the roads themselves are not managed so well as they almost certainly would be if owned by private parties, we do not see that any tax-payer need cry, if the roads should all go to the auction block to-morrow. The best managed roads in the State are the private ones. And we verily believe the "North Carolina system" would have been in operation long ago had the three links (from Beaufort to Buncombe) in the chain, not been controlled by the State, which has never had a Governor independant enough to appoint a set of directors on each of the three roads instructed to consolidate the line, otherwise latterly heralded as a North Carolina system. It is useless to talk of the "North Carolina system" so long as the roads are separate links, with a full set of salary-drawing, and free-riding officers for each road.

LIVER PILLS

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS. The signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Colonel Turner at Beaufort.

R. D. Graham in Farmer and Mechanic.

Much praise is justly awarded to those who with strong arms bore the weak and timid to a point of safety. Service of another kind was also needed, and a volunteer from the old 7th North Carolina Regiment cheerfully accepted the post of honor. Those who followed the fortunes of the Branch-Lane Brigade through the late war from New Berne to the last day of Gettysburg, will recall that splendid type of manly strength who at the head of the sharp-shooters was ever first in the fight and the last on the retreat.

The first service he had often performed, the latter but seldom. At Gettysburg the deadly missile a second time went crashing through his body, and his days of active duty were ended.

At Beaufort he was offered an opportunity to lead the retreat, and his friends expected it of him. But the spirit of the old "Tar Heel" was too strong for them. He deliberately chose his seat at the parlor door, and as frightened women and children came hurrying down the stairs he met them with such cheerfulness and composure that they forgot their excitement, knowing as they were not so helpless as he, and were content to wait their turn to be carried over the slippery bridge. He only suffered himself to be carried over simultaneously with the last lady, and the bridge itself rose up and followed them. You need no introduction to Colonel J. McL. Turner, and his record makes one of the brightest chapters in the history of the Old North State.

The height of the water exceeded anything ever before known here, lifting the immense building clear off its piers, floating it direct west some 15 or 20 feet. It was soon after dashed to pieces, and not a stick of timber left upon the old site, and scarcely two pieces of any size remaining together.

Mrs. Sprague's Appearance.

N. Y. Sun.

Mrs. Sprague is by no means the beautiful woman she used to be. She must be now not far from 45 years old, although she looks much younger. She is medium height, say 5 feet 4 or 5 inches, and of very regular features. Her hair is a dark auburn, waves a little and is a very abundant. Her complexion is, of course, fair, and her eyes dark. Her features are very regular, and her mouth pretty and full of white, regular teeth. She used to be rather thin, but age is filling her up a little. Her weight, I should think, about 140. Her hands are very symmetrical, and in public are always encased in white kids, faultless in make and fit—about six buttons. She is always neatly, scrupulously and richly dressed.

Death From Fright.

New York Mail.

Miss Rachel Snodgrass, 19 years of age, of Westmoreland county, Pa., dropped dead one day last week under strange circumstances. Shortly before the occurrence of the deplorable affair it is said that a little niece of Miss Snodgrass had strayed out into the back yard of her aunt's residence, and presently wandered out on to a plank which had been suspended across a deep well. Here the little one, unconscious of its peril, sat astride the board playing. A few minutes later Miss Snodgrass, who had missed the child, started out to look for it. Going to the well she was about rescuing the child, when it began to cry, and at the same time made an effort to crawl off the plank. This was so terrifying that Miss Snodgrass was overcome by her nervous excitement and fell to the ground, and had already expired when she was discovered by her parents. The child was rescued without injury.

Be wise and happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Infallibly Cure all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations

The testimonials of permanent cures of Skin and Scalp Diseases which have been the torture of a lifetime by the Cuticura Remedies, are more wonderful than any methods or remedies known to the medical profession.

Cuticura Resolvent, a powerful Blood Purifier, is the only purifying agent which finds its way into the circulating fluid and thence through the oil and sweat glands to the surface of the skin, thus destroying the poisonous elements with which these vessels have been daily charged.

Cuticura, The Great Skin Cure, applied externally, arrests all unnatural or morbid growth which cover the surface of the diseased glands and tubes with scaly, itching, and irritating Humors, speedily it removes them leaving the pores open, healthy, and free from diseased particles of matter.

Thus internally and externally do these great remedies act in conjunction, performing cures that have astonished the most noted physicians of the day.

Salt Rheum for 30 Years

On the Head, Face, and Greater Part of the Body, Cured.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen, I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for 30 years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to an article in the Union on skin diseases, and I got a box of Cuticura. The first application was a great relief and the third took the scales all off, and I felt like a new man. I have used three 50-cent boxes and my skin is smooth and I consider myself entirely cured. Hoping that this may be seen by some one afflicted as I have been (if there is any) is my earnest wish. And I cheerfully recommend it to all persons afflicted with like diseases. Yours truly,

B. WILSON LORD.

AGAWAM, MASS., Sept. 9, 1878.

The Cuticura Soap should be used for cleansing all diseased surfaces, as most soaps are injurious to the skin.

LEPROSY.

A Modern Miracle. Astonishing Results from the use of Cuticura.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—We have a case of Leprosy in our poorhouse which is being cured by your Cuticura remedies. The county had employed all of our doctors and had sent to New York for advice, but to no avail.

The patient commenced using the Cuticura and immediately began getting better. He had been confined to his bed for two and one half years. Had not had his clothes on during this time. Last week he dressed for the first time.

When he walked, there would at least one quart of scales come off of him.

This happened every day.

We think it is a wonderful cure.

We do not think he is cured, but he is in a fair way to be cured to say the least.

Yours truly,
DUNNING BROTHERS,
Druggists and Book ellers.

ALLEGAN, MICH., Feb. 11, 1879.

NOTE.—Messrs. Dunning Brothers are thoroughly reliable gentlemen, and were unknown to us prior to the receipt of this letter. We firmly believe this Cuticura will permanently cure this very severe case of Leprosy, as it has done many others.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

A Valuable Help.

Tourgee's Digest of Cited Cases is meeting with most gratifying success, even beyond the expectation of the publishers. Every lawyer who has had occasion to use the book has spoken in its praise as an exceedingly valuable help to the profession. Price, $12.00. Published by Alfred Williams & Co., Raleigh.

The Target Shooting.

At 3:30 p. m. yesterday the Raleigh Light Infantry met at their armory, pursuant to a previous notice to try their skill at target shooting.

The street parade going and coming was highly complimented, and did credit to that old and excellent company.

The Captain, J. T. Ferrall, is an excellent officer and handles his men with credit to himself and the company.

On arriving at the grounds, Mordecai's grove, the target shooting was immediately begun. Nearly all the men ran even on their shots, which were very good, considering the length of the time since they had practiced before.

The victorious shooter, Mr. Henry G. Thomas, was presented with the company's gold medal for the space of one year, when it will again be shot for.

Lemonade (nothing more) and cigars were on hand, all passed off quietly and every one enjoyed himself.

The Infantry is well drilled and makes a fine appearance.

Meeting of the Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Agricultural Society held their regular meeting at the Yarboro House last night, A. Creech, Esq., in the chair, and C. B. Denson, Secretary.

The committee on buildings and grounds made a report upon the proposed additions and alterations, to accommodate exhibitors of manufactured goods, carriages, etc., and the report was recommitted for further consideration with full power to act. Messrs. James McKee and N. S. Harp were requested to act with the committee in that matter.

After discussion in regard to the selection of a band for the next Fair, on motion it was resolved that the Raleigh Silver Cornet Band, Captain Lee, be selected, the bands for several years past having been chosen from other sections of the State.

On motion of Dr. McKee, the committee on transportation were requested to confer with the railroad authorities, and to ask for ample transportation, so that no stations should be neglected for want of cars on the principal days of the Fair.

On motion of R. H. Battle, Jr., the proposition of the proprietors of the North Carolina State Fair journal was accepted, the first edition of 2,500 copies to be issued October 1st.

The Secretary reported the receipt of a number of valuable donations of manufactured goods, fruit trees, fertilizers, furniture, etc.

Communications from Captain Natt. Atkinson, relative to display of fruit, and from other parties, were appropriately disposed of.

The meeting adjourned in good spirits at the prospect for a successful Fair.

New Supreme Court Rules.

The first district will be called as heretofore on Wednesday of the first week, and if necessary the call will be continued until and including Tuesday of the next week.

The second district will be called on Monday of the second week if cases of the first district have been disposed of, and if not, as soon as they are, and the call continued through that and the following week.

The third district will be called on Monday of the fourth week and allowed one week.

The fifth district will be allowed the fifth week, commencing on Monday.

The sixth district will be in like manner allowed the sixth week.

The seventh district the eighth week.

The eighth and ninth districts the nineth week, and if necessary to dispose of cases, two days of the next week ensuing, cases on the ninth being taken up as soon as the eighth have been calendered.

On Monday of the tenth week, or as soon as the docket of the eighth and ninth districts are perused, not later than Wednesday, the court will enter upon the call of cases at the foot of the docket, and proceed until they are disposed of.

Any party, before the end of term next ensuing a judgment of the court, may apply to have the case reheard upon any matter of law, and may file his petition therefor in the clerk's office. The petition must distinctly point and assign the error or the material matter overlooked, and must allay that the judgment has been performed and that its performance has been properly secured and dispensed with by the other party. It shall be accompanied with the certificate of at least two members of the bar, who did not appear in the case at the first hearing, and who had no interest in the case, that they have carefully examined the case and the law relating thereto, and the cited cases appearing in the opinion, and that they believe the judgment is erroneous and wherein it is erroneous.

The Swepson Case.

This case came up on yesterday in Wake Superior Court, on a motion to amend the records of the court as to its acts and proceedings at the time the fraudulent verdict of "not guilty" was entered, by inserting in the record the fact that on that occasion the defendant was not present in court. The State insisted that as that fact was undeniably so, the record should be amended so as to speak the truth. This the defence vehemently opposed, they being better satisfied with the record as it stands. Judge Avery ruled that the court had no power to amend the record, as prayed by the State, and the State appealed.

The result of Judge Avery's decision is probably to postpone the Swepson trial at Louisburg another six months, and, unless the Supreme Court shall overrule him, to turn Swepson loose altogether.

It is not denied by anyone that the fact which was omitted from the record and which the State asked to have placed in it, nunc pro tunc, was true.

The defendant Swepson was in court, having surrendered himself upon the capias issued for him last week.

Cold, with high winds and rain. Exposure to this weather is sure to produce colds and kindred diseases; and the best remedy we know of is Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Always keep it in the house, and you will be on the safe side.

Lemon.

It is from the rind of the Messina lemon that Dr. Price prepares his special Flavoring Extract of Lemon. While other Lemon Extracts in a little time have the taste and odor of turpentine, Dr. Price's for any length of time retains its intense lemony taste.

Nihilists Hanged for Conspiracy.

ODESSA, August 26.—Two prisoners, recently sentenced to be hanged, were found guilty of preparing explosives to kill the Czar when he was visiting Nicolaieff. The criminals are a Jew and a naval deserter from the Black Sea fleet. Their sentences will be carried out at Nicolaieff. The three other Nihilists of the five who were sentenced by the military tribunal, and of whom two were executed on the 23d inst., were hanged, in accordance with their sentence, on the race-course at Odessa. These make twelve executions that have taken place for political offenses in Russia in about a year.

A Campaign Slander.

San Francisco Post.

About the roughest thing told on the Workingmen's Gubernatorial candidate, is that once he attended a hanging near Santa Cruz, and, by permission of the sheriff, said a few words to the condemned men as he prepared to mount the scaffold. Just as White finished speaking, the hangman, a stranger in the place, stepped up and said: "Excuse me, but which of you two gentlemen is the one I'm to hang?"

A mendacious scoundrel by the name of Frederick Marrow, of Granville county, North Carolina, has wantonly and maliciously circulated in that county that the yellow fever had broken out here among the refugees from Memphis. There is not now, and has not been during the season, a serious case of acute disease of any sort at these Springs. THOS. F. GOODE,

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See other column.

It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Quick Fortunes in Stocks

Vast sums of money are made in quick turns of stocks in Wall street. Business has never been more successful. By the new combination plan, large and small investments (from $25 to $10,000) are combined in one vast sum, and operated by the most skillful experience, securing immense power in the stock market and gaining splendid profits. Thousands of customers are thus united in one concurrent enterprise, and receive their pro rata profits monthly. An Indiana country merchant made $17,892.41 in four operations. A Texas cattle dealer made $32,615.94 in two combinations; a St. Louis shipping merchant made $47,876.21 in less than six months, all through the combination plan of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., which has realized the grandest successes in the history of the stock market. Their new circular, with "unerring rules for success," and complete explanations how to make money in stocks, mailed by Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, ESQ., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully,
WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.
